Squad Is Best Looking Material that Ever Turned Out for Opening Work-out.

By JOHN A. DUGAN.

Football dawned in earnest in the District yesterday when eleven stalwart athletes from all corners of the univers reported to Coach Exendine at George-town University field.

It was the first call for practice for the Hilltoppers and from the brand of candidates which reported for the initial workout yesterday, the Blue and Gray gives promise of a successful campaign, and an eleven which will have a grand chance of copping out the South Atlantic

Numbering among the eleven candidate who reported yesterday were five of last season's veterans. Captain Freddy Murray / donned the moleskins for the first time, and looked to be in the best of condition. Jimmy Baron was also out, and although he is a little over weight, he claims to be in the best of

Sam Foley Reports.

Landrou, who subbed in the back-field last season, numbered among the veterans, while O'Gorman, a linesman of the 1913 squad, showed a great deal of action. Georgetown's hopes for de-pendable backfield players were given a big boost when Sammy Foley appeared on the side lines and signified his intentions of joining the squad before the week-end. Reports lust spring claimed that Foley would not be back at the university this fall, and when the hard hitting halfback enrolled yesterday the chance of the Blue and Gray went souring. Coach Exendine started the candidates out into the steady grind with nothing but light work, but from the style he has inprefecting the elementary work the Hilltoppers are sure to be driven from now until September 25 when they FIRST RACE-Canadian-owned; three-year-olds from now until September 25 when they and upward; selling; $500 added; one mile.
